FACULTY HANDBOOK

Welcome as faculty in the California State University, Fresno, Doctor of Nursing Practice, (DNP) program. A brief description and history of the program is presented. The main portion of the Faculty Handbook is meant to provide some guidance as you move through the process of being new faculty. What is required of you, how to perform various procedures, and a clear set of performance expectations.

The program's mission is to prepare promising nursing leaders, advanced practice clinicians and nursing faculty with high leadership potential to examine critically current healthcare practices and policies from a broad theoretical and practical perspective; and to formulate clinical, administrative and instructionally effective leadership approaches that can improve the quality of healthcare throughout the state.

The online program accepts only California licensed, post – Master's degree nurses. The Doctor of Nursing Practice is the highest practice degree that a nurse can obtain. It can be compared to the MD in medicine or the JD in law.

Program Background

The program admitted its first independent cohort in the Fall of 2019. Previously the program was a partnership between California State University, Fresno and San Jose State University (SJSU) with Fresno State as the lead campus and SJSU as the partner campus which started in 2011.

In 2010, in response to a demand for advanced practice nurses to meet the burgeoning needs of the state's population, the California legislature passed AB 867 which called for a pilot project to institute the Doctor of Nursing Practice program in the California State University system (Nava & Arambula, 2010). Two programs, one in Southern California and the other in Northern California, opened in Fall 2012.

The DNP program's goal is to produce leaders and advanced practice nurses to serve in the increasingly complex California health care system as well as faculty capable of teaching nursing in colleges and universities.

ACCREDITATION ANNOUNCEMENT

The California State University, Fresno, Doctor of Nursing Practice is accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education. Our Vision is:

To be an exceptional advanced nursing degree program that will prepare nurses at a doctoral level to lead health care change, serve as nursing faculty and advance health throughout California's communities.

Faculty Position Requirements & Responsibilities

Qualifications in Addition to University Requirements:

A. Current California R.N. licensure.

B. Tenure and Probationary: Doctorate degree with clinical specialization in nursing or allied area. A master's degree considered if faculty has demonstrated expertise in a specific area.

All faculty members teaching in the DNP program are expected to meet faculty standards regarding educational preparation, retention, scholarly productivity for tenure track and tenured faculty, or adjunct faculty including current practice, teaching excellence, and community/university service. Performance expectations are clearly articulated in the Retention, Tenure and Promotion Guidelines (Appendix X Appointment, Tenure and Promotion Policies) and university collective bargaining agreements.

<http://www.fresnostate.edu/academics/aps/facultyrtip.html>

New full and part-time faculty member's orientation is based on their needs. For example, many new faculty members have online teaching experience but need to be oriented to the structure, expected outcomes, and philosophy of the DNP program.

Nursing faculty members are held to the same standards and evaluation processes as faculty in other university departments. Peer evaluation and course evaluation is performed each semester that they teach. Written communication to faculty regarding their own performance against the program's Personnel Standards is provided at minimum every two years by the Personnel Committee, Program Director, and College Dean.

The Retention Tenure Promotion (RTP) requirements reflect the missions of each university, in which teaching is considered the primary faculty role. In separate mission statements, each program emphasizes a commitment to providing the highest quality program possible. Each mission stresses that excellence in nursing education is sought, and that faculty research, scholarship, and service are contributory. Program philosophies explicate further about teaching and the value of service and research to quality instruction in the nursing programs.

Beyond competence in teaching, the remaining performance expectations (scholarship, service) are dependent on a faculty member's position and job responsibilities. Tenured faculty members are subject to post-tenure reviews every five years focusing on all performance categories. In RTP decisions for tenure track faculty, scholarly and creative accomplishments are given the next highest priority after teaching while service activities are also reviewed.

Full and part-time lecturers (temporary faculty positions) in the DNP program are provided explicit letters of assignment by Fresno State's DNP Director. Retention reviews of lecturers are based upon an individual's outlined performance categories (e.g., teaching or teaching/service). Part-time lecturer assessments are heavily weighted by instructional performance, as indicated by online student evaluations and computer summaries of grades given in courses.

More specific expectations for the DNP faculty are that the majority (80%) are either doctoral prepared or if not doctoral prepared, experts in specific areas where they are teaching. Tenured and tenure track faculty are preferred but university limitations on hiring and faculty shortages may preclude this.

Responsibilities:

1. Improve expertise as an educator, scholar, professional nurse, and citizen through formal and informal study, research, attendance at meetings, and participation in professional, educational organizations and community activities.
2. Maintain expertise in area of teaching specialty.
3. Complete reading and acknowledge receipt of this handbook.
4. Notify students in writing if they are not maintaining at least a B grade in graduate courses and send copies to the student's Advisor.
5. Prepare evaluation materials in a timely manner including planning for peer visits and providing materials for peer reviewers. (Refer to Peer Evaluation Procedure.)
6. Meet departmental due dates for submission of administrative work as directed and coordinated by the DNP Administrative Support Coordinator.

Teaching Performance

In the area of teaching, performance is judged on a) pedagogical approach and methods; b) student response to instruction; and c) ongoing professional development in the discipline and as a teacher. These responsibilities can include preparing course syllabi and other learning and assessment materials, posting materials online, delivering online sessions, holding online office hours at assigned times, and participating in professional development. Each faculty member is expected to establish an online environment where learning is central and to provide opportunities for students to develop the skills necessary to contribute to society. A successful faculty member demonstrates mastery and currency in his/her discipline, teaches effectively, and helps students to learn both within and outside the course. Students evaluate teaching performance in each course at the end of each semester.

Scholarly Activity

Faculty engagement in scholarly and creative activity generates benefits for the faculty member as well as the university. Tenured and tenure track faculty are expected to engage in high quality scholarship, during the tenure review period to achieve the minimum required rating for tenure. Scholarly activities may include a) grant writing; b) participation in research, c) peer reviewed publications, d) scholarly presentations, and e) applied scholarship such as consultation and program evaluation activities. Although lecturers are not required to engage in scholarly work, they are encouraged to participate. Faculty engagement in scholarship is expected to contribute to an environment of nursing excellence.

University and Professional/Community Service

At Fresno State University, the quality, quantity, and impact of a faculty member's service contributions need to be considered in the context of the potential benefits to the profession, community, and university, and in light of prevailing professional standards. Tenured and tenure track faculty are expected to maintain a record of service that includes active, quality involvement in professional/community activities, including practice, and in program, College and/or University service activities. For the purpose of professional development, these faculty members are expected to engage actively in affairs of the discipline and related professions. Examples: assuming professional leadership roles; attending and presenting at professional meetings/workshops; acquiring professional licenses, credentials and certificates; editing professional journals; reviewing grant proposals or manuscripts for book proposals, professional journals; providing relevant private practice or consultations; receiving professional training or providing additional professional training to others; and engaging in other professional activities deemed valuable to the profession/community and in support of their University's Mission and Goals.

The success of any program is partially dependent on the active participation of its faculty members in its various organizational and governance tasks. In the case of the two programs, an unusually heavy demand for involvement in program activities, such as curriculum development and course approval, program review for accreditation purposes, and so forth, fall upon a relatively few full-time faculty. All tenured and tenure track faculty are expected to serve on program committees as outlined in their program bylaws.

Peer Evaluation Tool

The COVID-19 pandemic in spring 2020 dramatically affected the CSU system. The suspension of in-person instruction; the cancellation of visual and performing arts events; the postponement or cancellation of co-curricular lectures and activities; the cancellation of athletics events; and, the closure or reduction in the service of libraries and counseling centers represent a profound disruption for faculty, staff, and students. Peer evaluation of the faculty member shall take into consideration the fact that this profound disruption has altered the mode in which the class is being offered and responses must be reflective of the situation under which the peer evaluation was conducted.

Revised 10/2024

POLICY ON ASSESSMENT OF TEACHING EFFECTIVENESS

Teaching is central to the mission of the University and, therefore, its effectiveness must be assessed. The dual purpose of the assessment of teaching effectiveness is to provide the individual instructor with specific information to enhance instruction and to provide information for use in personnel actions. The primary responsibility for assessing all aspects of teaching effectiveness rests with the faculty.

This policy establishes the framework for the assessment of teaching effectiveness, including procedures for the two major components of the assessment: (a) peer evaluation of instruction; (b) student ratings of instruction. Standards for each component shall be established by academic departments. Standards should be based on the principle that the primary purpose of teaching assessment is to provide meaningful feedback to instructors. Assessment for administrative personnel purposes is a secondary goal. Moreover, statistical data must be analyzed with the realization that serious limitations exist relative to the accumulation and analysis of such data. Also, students cannot effectively evaluate all aspects of teaching, especially course content, so departments should use multiple methods of assessment. It is recommended that quantitative student ratings count for between 30 and 50 percent of the assessment of any instructor.

In assessing the teaching effectiveness of a faculty member, care should be taken to avoid bias based upon race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, marital status, age, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, veteran's status, sex, and sexual orientation.

I. The assessment of teaching effectiveness shall address four basic elements of instruction:

course content, instructional design, instructional delivery, and assessment methods.

- A. Course Content. The assessment of course content shall include a review of the currency of the content of a course, the appropriateness of the level of the content of a course, and the appropriateness of the sequencing of the content to best achieve the learning objectives for the course.
- B. Instructional Design. The assessment of the instructional design of the course shall include a review of learning objectives, syllabi, instructional support materials, organization of lectures, and the use of technology appropriate to the class.
- C. Instructional Delivery. The assessment of delivery shall include a review of oral presentation skills, written communication skills, skills using various forms of informational technology, and the ability to create an overall environment conducive to student learning.
- D. Assessment Methods. The evaluation of assessment methods shall consist of a review of the tools, procedures, and strategies used for measuring student learning, and providing timely and meaningful feedback to students.

II. Peer Evaluation Forms and Student Rating Questionnaires

- A. Each Department shall adopt peer evaluation forms that will assess course content, instructional design, instructional delivery, and assessment methods. In the absence of a formally adopted departmental form, the department shall use a university-wide template provided by the Provost. Each department may adopt a protocol for face-to-face real time peer observations of teaching where applicable. The results of these peer evaluations may be used both formatively and summatively.

- B. Student rating questionnaires shall provide for the assessment of the applicable components identified in Section I. The student rating questionnaires shall be unsigned. Departments shall select questions having demonstrated reliability and validity from a campus-wide pool approved by the Academic Senate and Provost. When possible, the instructor should also receive adjusted scores that take into account external factors beyond the control of the instructor.
- C. The data from peer evaluations and student ratings shall be used in personnel decisions relating to retention, tenure and promotion.
- D. Additional student ratings of courses may be requested by the instructor or required by the college/ school Personnel Committee, Dean or Provost.

III. Frequency of Implementation

A. Peer Evaluation Reports

- 1. Each department or equivalent unit shall establish a written policy which describes the frequency and scheduling of peer evaluation of courses. The following minimum frequency shall apply:
 - a. For part-time temporary faculty, the first time a course is taught by the instructor and, thereafter, at least one section every other year of employment regardless of a break in service.
 - b. For full-time temporary faculty, two sections each semester for the first year and two sections each academic year thereafter.
 - c. For probationary faculty, two sections (to include as many different courses as possible) every semester.
 - d. For tenured faculty, one section each academic year on a rotating basis such that during a five-year period the maximum number of different courses is evaluated.
- 2. Additional peer evaluation reports may be requested by the instructor or required by the College/School Personnel Committee, Dean or Provost on a case by case basis.

B. Student Ratings of Instruction

IV. Confidentiality

Information obtained from peer evaluation reports and/or student rating questionnaires shall be confidential. Possession or use of this information shall be restricted to

- A. the instructor, who may at his/her discretion, make such information available to others;
- B. those charged with conducting evaluations or administering this policy;
- C. those with access to the Open Personnel File.

V. Use and Housing of Student Ratings Data

- A. Student ratings data shall not be used for any extraordinary purposes including, but not limited to, comparison of programs, departments, colleges, or any external entity or institution without the approval of the Academic Senate.
- B. Data collected from the assessment of teaching effectiveness will be housed in the Offices of the Academic Senate on behalf of the Academic Assembly.

VI. Administration of Peer Evaluation Reports

A. Conducting Peer Evaluation of Courses

- 1. Only tenured and probationary faculty shall conduct peer evaluations of courses. Probationary faculty may perform evaluations of temporary faculty only. Tenured faculty shall be evaluated only by other tenured faculty at a higher rank, except full professors who may evaluate faculty at any rank. Tenured faculty being considered for promotion and participants in the Faculty Early Retirement Program may not participate in personnel committee actions. However, they may conduct peer evaluations of courses pursuant to this policy.
- 2. Department chairs shall assign peer evaluator(s) to review faculty members.
- 3. Prior to the peer evaluation, the evaluator(s) shall notify the faculty member of the materials that will be required for the evaluation. It is the responsibility of the faculty member to provide the materials to the evaluator. The materials shall include those designated on the peer evaluation form.
- 4. Evaluators shall not interview students before, during or after the peer evaluation.

B. Reports

1. Using the departmentally approved form, a written report on the peer evaluation of a course shall be prepared by the evaluator. The report shall include a review of the relevant components listed in Section I.
2. The peer evaluator and the faculty member should discuss the evaluation prior to the submission of the written report to the department chair.
3. Each report shall be signed by the evaluator and submitted to the department chair for placement by the Dean's Office in the Open Personnel File after appropriately notifying the faculty member.

Evaluating and Improving Your Own Course (CESAP)

As a part of the continued effort to offer the highest caliber courses within the DNP program, it is necessary to evaluate if specific learning outcomes are being met. To accomplish this, the California State University, Northern California Consortium DNP program requires each instructor to review, reflect, and then write suggested changes regarding the courses they are teaching.

Revised 10/2024

The Course Evaluation Summary and Action Plan, CESAP, (Appendix B) provides instructions on how to accomplish this. The assessment process can be done on an individual basis or at a course committee level, depending on the course and the situation. Once the CESAP is completed, it is sent initially to the DNP coordinator. The DNP Executive Leadership Team (ELT) reviews completed CESAP forms.

Based on the outcomes of the assessment activities, recommendations for improvement are made. Changes are to be completed by the appropriate faculty member teaching the course. Change completion are supervised by the DNP coordinator.

Instructions

- Each faculty upon receiving their course evaluations (not instructor evaluations/Explorance Blue) completes the CESAP form.
- Completed CESAP forms are to be electronically sent to the DNP program coordinator; faculty should retain a copy for their records.
- The DNP ELT designates a specific DNP Committee meeting to review the CESAP forms. Results of the course reviews are presented by the DNP director at the Graduate Committee
- If the DNP ELT makes suggested changes to the course, the individual faculty currently teaching the course will be responsible for making the suggested changes.
- Faculty are expected to make recommended changes as soon as it is logistically feasible.
- The DNP coordinator is responsible to ensure changes are completed.

The forms should be completed and sent to the DNP coordinator by the end of:

CHEATING & PLAGIARISM

<http://www.fresnostate.edu/academics/aps/documents/apm/235.pdf>

PHILOSOPHY: Honesty and integrity are two of the most important values of the university in its pursuit and dissemination of truth and knowledge. Faculty and students share the responsibility for maintaining the probity of the educational experience and preserving high standards of excellence.

Academic dishonesty--cheating and plagiarism - - is unacceptable behavior morally, ethically and legally; and it cannot be justified or tolerated. To do otherwise undermines the ideals and purposes of higher education and severs the bonds of respect and trust between teacher, student and society. Cheating and plagiarism compromise the process of fair and equitable evaluation of all students' academic performance and erode the quality and value of degrees conferred by the University. Students engaging in such practices are denying themselves the benefit of an instructors' accurate assessment and feedback, thereby hindering their academic and personal development. Moreover, intellectual dishonesty reinforces the false idea that success in life, personally and professionally, can come to those who deviate from community norms and who lack the requisite expertise in their chosen careers.

RESPONSIBILITY: Although faculty set the standards for moral and academic excellence in teaching and learning, such standards cannot be attained without full cooperation and support of students. Therefore, each student is expected to accept her/his responsibility to maintain honesty and integrity in all endeavors inside and outside of the classroom, studio, or laboratory. Faculty must encourage this by: establishing an atmosphere of mutual respect in their classrooms; stating her/his own standards and expectations for academic performance; structuring learning situations that encourage honesty and deter cheating and plagiarism; presenting the University's policy on cheating and plagiarism and the penalties for violations thereof; and holding accountable those who infringe on this policy. The policies herein on cheating and plagiarism and the accompanying due process procedures are designed to accomplish the above stated objectives, while protecting the rights of the accused. This policy, along with the related procedures, should be followed scrupulously.

INTRODUCTION

Adjudicating cases of cheating and plagiarism involves at least two aspects of the student's status within the university. The first directly affects the student's academic status in the university. The second may involve disciplinary action, which also may jeopardize the student's ability to remain enrolled in the university. When an instructor believes a student is cheating and/or plagiarizing, he/she must still preserve the student's right to due process and confidentiality in handling the situation according to this policy on cheating and plagiarism and Executive Order 628, Student Disciplinary Procedures for the California State University.

I. STUDENT'S ACADEMIC STATUS/STANDING

A) Academic Work and Grading

Faculty expects students to maintain honesty and integrity in their academic performance. On the other hand, students expect faculty to maintain integrity and fair play in the performance of their teaching and grading responsibilities. Students are expected to be familiar with university policies on cheating and plagiarism which can be found in the university's General Catalog and Schedule of Courses. Instructors shall include a statement in their syllabus on intellectual honesty and integrity as it relates to the University's policies on cheating and plagiarism. Since proving cheating and/or plagiarism can result in severe penalties and consequences, students are expected to clarify with their instructors whether or not certain actions would or would not be acceptable behavior in taking examinations, writing papers, doing homework, and performing other activities pertaining to any class and/or laboratory. If a student observes one or more students cheating and/or plagiarizing, it would be proper for the student to confront those students directly and/or to notify the instructor so that the instructor could take appropriate action.

B) Definitions

For examples of cheating please see Academic Policy 235 Appendix A and B:

<http://www.fresnostate.edu/academics/aps/documents/apm/235.pdf>

1. Cheating

Cheating is the actual or attempted practice of fraudulent or deceptive acts for the purpose of improving one's grade or obtaining course credit; such acts also include assisting another student to do so. Inappropriate behavior reasonably interpreted as evidence of the intent to cheat is also interpreted as cheating for the purpose of this policy. Typically, such acts occur in relation to examinations. However, it is the intent of this definition that the term "cheating" not be limited to examination situations only, but that it include any and all actions by a student that are intended to gain an unearned academic advantage by fraudulent or deceptive means.

2. Plagiarism

Plagiarism is a specific form of cheating which consists of the misuse of the published and/or unpublished works of others by misrepresenting the material (i.e., their intellectual property) so used as one's own work.

C) Procedures

Revised 10/2024

When a faculty member responsible for a course has reason to believe that an action of a student falls within one or both of the above definitions, the faculty member is obliged to initiate a faculty-student conference [Section 1. paragraphs a) through c)] or refer it directly to a departmental hearing [Section 2, paragraphs a) through e)]. If the alleged cheating and/or plagiarism occurred at the end of the semester, the faculty member shall submit a grade of "I", rather than an "F" or other letter grade, which will stand until the allegation has been resolved. Given the sensitive nature of the events referenced by this policy, all parties involved should act and respond in a timely fashion.

1. Faculty – Student Conference

The instructor may choose to handle the alleged instance of cheating and/or plagiarism in conference with the student. During the conference, the instructor shall present the student with the charge and the evidence. Sooner is better, but normally the conference should occur no later than one month from the alleged incident or discovery of it. If the conference finds that cheating and/or plagiarism occurred, the Instructor's Report of Cheating and/or Plagiarism must be filed.

The procedures for the faculty-student conference are detailed in paragraphs a) through c) below.

a) Academic Sanctions

If the student admits to the wrongdoing, the instructor shall impose an academic sanction. The instructor has the prerogative of lowering a grade, assigning a grade of "0" or "F" for the test/paper, assigning an "F" for the entire course, or recommending another penalty that seems appropriate. No sanction can be imposed without filing the Instructor's Report of Cheating and/or Plagiarism with the Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students.

b) Disciplinary Sanctions

In addition to academic sanctions, faculty may also recommend students who admit to cheating and/or plagiarism be subject to additional disciplinary sanctions by the Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students pursuant to Section 41301 of Title 5; Executive Order No.628. Following procedures consonant with due process, disciplinary action taken by the Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students may include, but is not limited to, the following: blocking the possibility of substituting a grade earned later in the same course, a written reprimand, probation, suspension, or expulsion. Recommendations for these disciplinary sanctions will be considered upon receipt of the Instructor's Report of Cheating and/or Plagiarism filed by the instructor as called for under Section I Subpart C within one month following the faculty-student conference.

c) Instructor's Report of Cheating and Plagiarism

If the faculty member is convinced that cheating and/or plagiarism did not occur, the conference is considered concluded and no report of the incident is made. If the faculty member and the student agree that cheating and/or plagiarism did occur and the student accepts the recommended sanction(s), the conference is considered completed to the satisfaction of both parties. At the successful conclusion of the faculty-student conference, the faculty member must file the Instructor's Report of Cheating and/or Plagiarism with the Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students within one month of the faculty-student conference. The report will be placed in a confidential file in accordance with the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 and California's Education Code, Section 67100 et. seq. Seven years after the cheating/plagiarism incident is resolved, the report shall be removed from the file and destroyed.

2. Departmental Hearing

At the initiation of the faculty member or in the event that no mutually agreeable settlement is reached as a result of the faculty-student conference, the faculty member immediately concerned will consult with the department chair(s) or designees as soon as possible but normally no later than one week after the faculty-student conference or the alleged incident occurred and/or was discovered. At that time, the faculty member will describe the nature of the incident and present supporting evidence. In addition to the evidence presented by the instructor, the chairs may conduct an investigation. The procedures for the departmental hearing are detailed in paragraphs a) through e) below.

a) Notification of Hearing

The department chairs will forward a written statement of the allegation to the student as soon as possible, together with a brief description of the supporting evidence, a statement of the student's right to a meeting and to present evidence in his or her own behalf, in addition to a copy of the Policy and Procedures on Cheating & Plagiarism (APM 235). The student must be informed of where and when the full supporting evidence of academic dishonesty is available for review and be notified of his/her right to bring an advisor to the hearing. The student must be given time to prepare a defense.

b) Official Hearing

The department chair 1 will schedule a hearing as soon as possible -- normally, this should be no later than two weeks after the alleged incident occurred and/or was discovered. Every effort should be made to schedule the hearing at a time convenient to all parties involved. Those present at the hearing will include the department chairs or designees, the faculty member, and the student charged. Also, a faculty/staff member or student of the student's choice may attend to act as an advisor. Legal counsel may not attend departmental hearings. In a case where two or more students are involved, the chair will schedule a group hearing unless one or more students request separate hearings or the chair believes separate hearings would be necessary or appropriate. The department chair will conduct the hearing and has the authority to negotiate a settlement between or among the principals, if agreeable to all parties. (For example, a different test might be constructed and administered, an essay might be rewritten, or a disinterested third party might be asked to grade the test/paper.) It should be remembered that the burden of responsibility is upon the instructor to provide evidence during the hearing that the student did cheat or plagiarize. If the departmental hearing finds that cheating and/or plagiarism did occur,

If the instructor alleging cheating/plagiarism is also the department chair or another administrator, the college/school dean will schedule and conduct this meeting. Actions on sanctions recommended after the departmental hearing cannot be taken without filing the department chair's Report of Cheating and/or Plagiarism. The department chair will notify the student and the instructor in writing of the decision resulting from the departmental hearing. In the event the faculty member or the student involved does not attend the departmental hearing, the hearing shall proceed. The department chair shall render a decision and notify in writing all parties involved of the decision resulting from the departmental hearing. including a copy of the department chair's report of cheating/plagiarism. The faculty member shall forward a copy of the Instructor's Report of Cheating and Plagiarism if appropriate. If the instructor alleging cheating/plagiarism is also the department chair or another administrator, the college/school dean or designee will schedule and conduct this meeting.

c) Academic Sanctions

If the departmental hearing finds that cheating and/or plagiarism did occur, the faculty member shall impose an academic sanction. The student will be informed in writing of the academic sanctions imposed. The instructor has the prerogative of lowering a grade, assigning a grade of "0" or "F" for the test/paper, assigning an "F" for the entire course, or assigning another penalty that seems appropriate. If the student does not acknowledge guilt, or acknowledges guilt but is not willing to accept the recommended sanction(s), the student has the right to appeal the decision to the Student Academic Petitions Committee in accordance with the Policy & Procedures for Reviewing and Appealing an Assigned Grade (APM 242). If a failing grade for the entire course is assigned, the instructor must inform the student that he/she should remain in the course --completing all assignments, and taking all tests to accommodate the student's option to appeal the instructor's grade and to allow for the time required by the appeal process to render a final decision. On the other hand, if the evidence does not support the charge, the Chair will so notify the student in writing and will request the instructor to record the appropriate grade. If the faculty member disagrees with the Chair's decision, the faculty member may appeal the decision to the Student Academic Petitions Committee. The faculty member must appeal the decision by formal memorandum within two weeks of the decision. If the alleged cheating and/or plagiarism occurred at the end of the semester, the faculty member shall submit a grade of "I", rather than an "F" or other letter grade, which will stand until the allegation has been resolved by due process as described above and in accordance with the Policy & Procedures for Reviewing and Appealing an Assigned Grade (APM 242).

d) Disciplinary Sanctions

In addition to academic sanctions, faculty may also recommend students who are found guilty of cheating and/or plagiarism be subject to additional disciplinary sanctions by the Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students pursuant to Section 41301 of Title 5; Executive Order No.628. Following procedures consonant with due process, disciplinary action taken by the Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students may include, but is not limited to, the following: blocking the possibility of substituting a grade earned later in the same course, a written reprimand, probation, suspension, or expulsion. Recommendations for these disciplinary sanctions will be considered upon receipt of the Instructor's Report of Cheating and/or Plagiarism filed by the instructor normally within one month of the hearing conducted by the department chair.

e) Instructor's Report of Cheating and/or Plagiarism

At the conclusion of the departmental hearing where cheating and/or plagiarism is found to have occurred, the faculty member shall file the Instructor's Report of Cheating and/or Plagiarism with the Dean of Students normally within one month of the hearing. If the student accepts the recommended sanctions(s), the departmental hearing is considered completed to the satisfaction of both parties. The report will be placed in a confidential file in accordance with the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 and California's Education Code, Section 67100 et. seq. Seven years after the cheating/plagiarism incident is resolved, the report shall be removed from the file and destroyed.

D) Student Rights

Nothing in this policy statement is intended to deny students who come within its scope full access to due process, including the right to be informed of the charges against him or her, to be informed of the nature of the evidence supporting such charges, to have a meeting at which time statements and evidence in his or her own behalf may be submitted, and to appeal any decision resulting from such meeting through appropriate university channels. If the student does not acknowledge guilt, or acknowledges guilt but is not willing to accept the recommended sanction(s), the student has the right to appeal the decision to the Student Academic Petitions Committee in accordance with the Policy and Procedures for Reviewing and Appealing an Assigned Grade (APM 242). If a failing grade for the, entire course is assigned, the instructor must inform the student that he/she should remain in the course -completing all assignments and taking all tests to accommodate the student's option to appeal the instructor's grade and to allow for the time required by the appeal process to render a final decision. On the other hand, if the evidence does not support the charge, the chair will so notify the student in writing and will request the instructor to record the appropriate grade. The student has the right to appeal the faculty member's grade or other action and department chair's decision to uphold the grade or other action to the Student Academic Petitions Committee within two weeks of the written notification of the decision.

A copy of the Policy & Procedures for Reviewing and Appealing An Assigned Grade may be obtained from the Office of Advising Services. In addition, the Policy is located in the Academic Policy Manual in each academic department office and in the Library.
